Subject: CSULB Housing: La Playa Update

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY
LONG BEACH
Student Housing

Dear

I'm writing today with another update on La Playa, which will soon be your home on campus.

As I shared in my previous message, the campus is working very hard to prepare for your arrival. In fact, construction crews are diligently working around the clock to ensure everything is ready to welcome you to your new home.

This week marks a critical milestone as we move into our final inspections and readiness reviews. Based on our current progress, we believe everything remains on track for your scheduled move-in.

A few finishing touches will likely remain when you arrive as our first residents in La Playa. We appreciate your understanding during the initial weeks of the semester.

Please continue to plan on a move-in date of Sunday, August 23, one day before classes begin.

While we are confident in our timeline, we also recognize that large and complex projects can occasionally present unexpected challenges. If circumstances require any adjustments to our plans, please be assured that we have contingency plans in place and are fully committed to caring for and supporting you throughout the process. Your well-being and successful start to the academic year remain our highest priorities.

We will continue to share updates and will notify you promptly of any important developments and next steps. Please continue to review our email messages carefully. We will provide another project update in the middle of next week and it will include the latest information regarding move-in and campus preparations.

We look forward to welcoming you to La Playa and to the beginning of an exciting new chapter in our campus community.
